(BULLETIN)

WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN, EN ROUTE SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—(INS)—President Truman sped over the Pacific today in his flying "White House" Independence, toward San Francisco where he will make a foreign policy speech Tuesday night. The president's plane took off from Honolulu Airport at 6:33 a.m. (11:33 a.m. EST).

HONOLULU, Oct. 16.—President Truman flies from Honolulu today to San Francisco for a major foreign policy speech in which he will reiterate his conviction that a new world war can be avoided.

The chief executive will make this address tomorrow night in the War Memorial Opera House in San Francisco where he will stop over on his way back from an historic conference with Gen. Douglas MacArthur on Wake Island.

Mr. Truman put the finishing touches on the speech in Hawaii yesterday after the brief meeting with MacArthur at which a blueprint for "peace and security" for the Far East was mapped.

To Expand Communism
The talk in San Francisco tomorrow night will expand on a communique issued at the close of the conference in which America's assets in the drive for peace were listed as:

1. "Unqualified devotion to peace."
2. "Unity with our fellow peace-loving members of the United Nations."
3. "Our determination and growing strength."

After finishing work on the talk yesterday, Mr. Truman toured the sun-kissed island of Oahu as thousands of gaily-clad children and adults of all races lined the path of his motorcade.

Tours Honolulu
Like any tourist, the president motored through downtown Honolulu, saw the excellent view from the Pali, watched the blowhole—an underwater cave that spouts water—and swung past famed Diamond Head and the Beach at Waikiki.

The final stop was a visit to

First evidence of frost was noted here over the weekend although it did not seem to be too much of a killer. The mercury got down just to the freezing point, Sunday morning, and this morning.

Poles along the downtown streets are all adorned with huge red feathers, giving emphasis to the fact that the community chest drive is under way here.

Penn Power To Have Visitors

Pennsylvania Week Inspection Arranged

Pennsylvania Week committee will see tomorrow night the progress on one of the biggest construction jobs ever undertaken in this area. Pennsylvania Power Company is the host for a series of tours this week of its big new power addition on Route 168 at West Pittsburg, the first tour being for the county, municipal and township officials; one on Thursday for clergymen; and one on Saturday morning for school principals will be climaxed on Sunday afternoon by a big public open house inspection.

The construction job, which, with equipment, will cost $12,500,000 is now at the ground level. The substructure is practically complete, but the open view of the interior offers an unparalleled opportunity to see the amazing complexity of conduit, piping, and other duct work that will soon be buried in concrete. Foundations of many items of equipment have been built and the wall of the present building is now being removed to connect with the new addition. The inspection tours will also include a brief trip through the boiler and turbine rooms of the present plant, which will be operating.

"I Discovered Fire And Put It Out", Says Truck Driver

William Bartholomew, Falcon street, driver of the truck, which caught fire on West Washington street extension last Wednesday afternoon, says there were several inaccuracies in the story printed concerning the occurrence.

Mr. Bartholomew says that he did not leave the truck as was stated and that he carried two fire extinguishers in his truck and used them to put the fire out.

"The fire was out when Volunteer Fireman Vincent DelPrincipe arrived with the Union township equipment," Mr. Bartholomew stated, "though the CO-2 applied by DelPrincipe helped finished the job off."

"DelPrincipe acted quickly and bravely in rushing for the Union township fire fighting equipment," Bartholomew added. "And I am very appreciative of his help."

The driver of the truck was on his way to Harrisburg when the fire, in one of the brake drums occurred. As soon as the danger of more fire was eliminated he continued on his trip.

December Draft Quota For State Is Set As 2,630

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Pennsylvania must provide 2,630 men out of December's national draft call of 40,000, State Selective Service Headquarters announced today.

Credit for federalization of Pennsylvania's 28th National Guard Division and other non-divisional units in August and September whittled down the state's original 2,800 man quota, according to Lt. Col. Henry M. Gross, state director.

Gross said the credit system is being used in December for the first time.

Previous induction quotas for Pennsylvania were 3,503 in September, 3,493 for October, and 4,762 for November.

Meanwhile, doctors, dentists and veterinarians throughout the state were registering today. Pennsylvania will furnish approximately 127 medical men for an initial nationwide call of 1,522.

Unopposed East Germany Reds Win Election

By RICHARD S. WEIL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—Unopposed Communist-approved candidates rolled up a 95 to 99.8 per cent "popular" vote today in tabulations of Sunday's one-way strong-armed election in East Germany.

The official returns showed thousands of East Germans risked their lives by defacing their ballots and invalidating their votes.

East German sources reported that some ballots had been defaced with anti-Communist slogans.

But the protest votes were snowed under by the avalanche of "yes" ballots presently being tabulated under armed guard. The number of approving votes is expected to be almost identical with the number of persons participating.

U. N. Troops Are 38 Miles From Red Capital

Four Divisions In Convergent Drive Toward Pyongyang

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Oct. 16.—United Nations troops swept within 38 miles of Pyongyang today while on the opposite side of North Korea, an attempt was launched to rescue some 800 American war prisoners reported held in a railroad tunnel.

One American and three South Korean divisions pressing a convergent drive on Pyongyang rammed spearheads ever closer to the Communist capital where the Korean war's last decisive battle was expected to begin in a few days.

Armor-paced U. S. First Cavalry troops, thrusting up the main highway-route to Pyongyang, raced 14 miles northwest beyond captured Namchonjon in less than 12 hours Monday.

Smash Through Sinnak
International News Service War Correspondent Irving R. Levine reported in a telephoned front dispatch at 10 o'clock Monday night 8 a.m. EST that the Americans smashed through Sinnak at 10:45 in the morning.

By 3:50 p. m. they reached Sohung, only 42 air miles southeast of Pyongyang and 21 miles east-southeast of Sariwon, principal southern gateway to the red capital.

On the First Cavalry's east flank, the South Korean First Division captured Suan and moved farther northwest to within 37 miles of the enemy capital after gaining 12 miles in 20 hours.

The South Korean Eighth Division, farther inland from North Korea's western seaboard, smashed into Korian, 49 miles east-southeast of Pyongyang. Driving inland from the east coast, meanwhile, the South Korean Third Division captured Tongyang, 60 air miles east-northeast of Pyongyang.

24th In Motion
Another American division—the gallant 24th Infantry—swung into motion for the first time in a couple of weeks with a westward dash just below the 38th parallel.

These battle-tempered GIs seized the hub of Yonan in a drive which appeared headed for North Korean territory and Pyongyang's west coast port of Chinnampo, 68 miles to the northwest.

On the east coast, the ROK (Republic Of Korea) capital and Sixth Divisions hurtled at least six miles north beyond captured Yongchong to within 22 miles below the major North Korean heavy industry center of Hamhung.

These units also lashed within 21 miles southeast of Hungnam, the Japan sea outlet for Hamhung.

Report Prisoners In Tunnel
North of Yonghung, a U. S. military advisory officer, Maj. Malcolm Smith, of Altadena, Calif., led a South Korean patrol toward a railroad tunnel where about 800 American war prisoners were reported held up.

The Pyongyang radio meanwhile quoted a Red high command an-

GOVERNOR DEWEY PROPOSES EISENHOWER FOR PRESIDENT

whether he had "any other candidate in mind for your party's nomination," Dewey replied:

"Yes. It's a little early, but we have in New York a very great world figure. And if I should be re-elected governor, and have influence with the New York delegation, I would recommend to them that they support General Eisenhower for president if he would accept a draft."

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(INS)
—A close source said Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower might accept patriotically a draft for the presidential nomination in 1952, and the general promised to make his stand clear in a statement later today.

Eisenhower was said authoritatively to be determined not to seek out the nomination, but that he might accept it out of a deep sense of duty if it were thrust upon him.

Friends of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio regard the Dewey declaration as a personal affront to the man who is called "Mr. Republican." Taft now is engaged in a major battle for political survival in his race for re-election to the senate. He has been regarded as a favorite for the 1952 Republican nomination if he can win re-election, although he has disclaimed presidential ambitions during the campaign.

As Taft Followers See It
Taft's followers view the Dewey announcement as a declaration that Taft is dispensable in 1952. One certain result is that Taft's friends will never forgive Dewey for endorsing Eisenhower three weeks before the election.

Dewey told the "meet the press" correspondents that he had not consulted with Eisenhower before endorsing him.

Gen. Eisenhower himself declined any comment whatsoever. However, it was anticipated that he may have a statement within the next 48 hours.

Dewey has touched off a Republican battle reminiscent of 1920 when a strong Republican faction sought to nominate Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, a World War I hero, only to see him lose out to a relatively unknown compromise Sen. Warren Harding of Ohio.

Walter Newell Leslie
Walter Newell Leslie, of 2012 Greenwood, Pueblo, Colo., died Friday at a hospital in that city, after an illness. Mr. Leslie, a resident of Pueblo of 50 years, moved there from New Castle, Pa.

PRESIDENT ON WAY BACK FROM PACIFIC PARLEY

Punchbowl crater overlooking Honolulu where 13,270 dead of World War II lie buried.

Told that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York had endorsed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower of the Republican presidential nomination in 1952, Mr. Truman commented:

"I think that is generous of Mr. Dewey."

Mr. Truman also took time out for a swim. He went bathing in the Pacific from an officers club not far from the home of Pacific Fleet Commander Adm. Arthur Radford, where he stayed during his visit to the islands.

The president appeared relaxed and genial, in contrast to the grim and weary demeanor he showed in Honolulu a few days before on his way to the meeting with Gen. MacArthur.

Hard Parley on Wake Island
On isolated, sun-baked Wake Island Sunday the chief executive and the supreme commander of United Nations forces in Korea met for a private one-hour parley, then held a longer session with their aides present.

Mr. Truman termed the conference—the first time he had met Gen. MacArthur—the "most satisfactory" meeting he had since becoming president.

Just before leaving the mid-Pacific isle the chief executive said he found he and his five-star commander-in-chief in the Far East shared a "very complete unanimity of view."

A communique signed by the president and initiated by Gen. MacArthur declared that Korea and Japan were the principal topics of the momentous conference.

"Peaceful Reconstruction"
For Korea, the meeting discussed the "challenging task" of that war-torn country as well as the problem of getting American troops out as soon as their United Nations mission is completed.

For Japan, the statement promised a peace treaty in the near future looking toward a "new Japan which will be both peaceful and prosperous."

The official report on the dramatic meeting did not mention Formosa, an issue on which Mr. Truman and Gen. MacArthur previously have expressed divergent views, nor Indo-China, another hot spot in the Far East.

At the Benigas residence a small stone was found.

At the A. & M. Market a heavy rusted iron and a new stove bolt were found.

Mrs. S. Dellaverson, 10 West Lutton street, informed police her home had been entered while the family was absent, the windows soaped, written upon with soap and rotten eggs and vegetables thrown upon the rear porch. Two weeks ago her home was also entered and meat in the house was strewn upon the floor.

Saturday night's vandalism, following within a week the auto window smashing and tearing loose of a screen door from a Neshanock avenue house, has caused considerable alarm here.

Many citizens feel it is unsafe to park their cars on the street or leave their homes, and unless the vandals are caught believe it may be necessary to form a vigilantes squad to stop the outrages.

According to deduction, it is believed that the vandals travelled in a car, because all windows facing the cartway side were smashed.

DONNA LOU SHELLITO

WEDS HOWARD KELLEY

Miss Donna Lou Shellito, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coy N. Shellito, 1402 Highland avenue, was a beautiful bride for the occasion of her marriage to Howard (Joe) Kelley, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Kelley, 346 East Washington street, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the First United Presbyterian church, Glenmoore at Albert.

Approaching the altar with her father, who gave her in marriage, the petite brunette bride was dressed in an original creation of all white chintilly lace, designed with a Peter Pan collar, long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists and bouffant hoop skirt which extended into a graceful court train. A row of self-covered buttons enhanced each sleeve and was a dainty accent to the fitted bodice, starting at the collar and ending at the waistline. The bridal veil, of fingertip length, was a wisp of illusion, fastened to a coronet of braided satin trimmed with seed pearls. White roses, white pompons and a white orchid made up the old fashioned bridal bouquet which was tied with a white satin ribbon.

Rev. Robert H. Mayo read the wedding service uniting the lives of the young couple, using the double ring ceremony. The altar setting was enriched with shefflera palms, cibotium ferns and large vases of white chrysanthemums. White cathedral candles in seven-branch candelabra glowed on the altar.

Mrs. John F. Love, the church organist, offered a prelude of favorite selections of the bride, and accompanied Stephen Polley, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer" before and during the ceremony.

The blonde attendants were Mrs. Martin A. Holzapfle, matron of honor, in forest green velvet and bridesmaids, Mrs. Jane Labuhn and Mrs. Ray Fredericks, the latter a cousin of the groom, in deep rose velvet. The contrasting gowns were fashioned alike. They were made off-the-shoulder with matching capes and had full, gathered skirts. The braided head-pieces were of the same material. They carried old fashioned colonial bouquets of yellow roses and bronze and yellow chrysanthemums tied with yellow ribbon.

Little Miss Janie Prout, the flower girl, was charming in a white taffeta gown styled with a full hoop skirt. Tiny puffed sleeves and a wide ruffie featured the yoke of the gown. She carried a miniature old fashioned colonial bouquet of pink roses and pink pompons, tied with pink ribbon.

Ushers for the wedding were the bride's brother, Jack Shellito; the groom's brother, Floyd G. Kelley; James Cummings and Donald Hartshorne.

A brief congratulatory period was held in the vestibule of the church following the ceremony, after which a reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors. The table was appointed in a festive manner, with Mrs. James Cummings and Mrs. Donald Hartshorne presiding at the silver tea services. Miss Ruth Capitola was an aide in serving.

Later, at the Shellito residence Miss Carol Ashenfelter, cousin of the bride, caught the bridal bouquet. Shortly afterward, Mr. and Mrs. Kelley left for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. When they return, they will be "at home" in their newly furnished apartment, 414 Garfield avenue.

Both young people are graduates of the New Castle Senior high school. Mrs. Kelley attended Youngstown College and the New Castle Business College and is employed as a private secretary at Francis Motors. Her husband is a graduate of Westminster College with the January class of 1950 and served during the past war with the U. S. Marine Corps. He is with the personnel office of the Bossert company.

"How I Relieve Distress of Monthly Female Complaints and nervous feelings several days before..."

"Several days just before my period I'd feel so nervous, irritable, so restless, easily upset at the slightest thing—due to female functional monthly disturbances. I asked my druggist for something to take, and he told me Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Now I get simply amazing relief from this distress. Pinkham's Compound also relieves monthly headache, backache and those miserable bearing-down pains—due to this cause. Taken regularly—it helps build up resistance against such distress.

"What also impressed me about Lydia Pinkham's Compound is that it's made strictly from nature's roots and herbs (plus Vitamin B). There are no harmful drugs in it. This is really a great comfort. I wish you girls troubled this way would give this great medicine a fair trial.

"P. S. Pinkham's Compound tastes swell in a little fruit juice or just plain water. Or you may prefer Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS with added iron—pleasant to take and easy to carry in your purse.

WALTERS-KAPCEWICH CHURCH NUPTIALS

Epworth Methodist church was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, when Miss Gladys Mae Walters was united in marriage to Adolph P. Kapcewich. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Walters, 1112 Cunningham avenue, while groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kapcewich, Volant, R. D. 3.

Using the impressive double ring service, Rev. Albert C. Howe officiated at the exchange of vows that took place in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives, "open church" being observed.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely bride was attired in a gown of white slipper satin, styled with a marquisette yoke, edged in lace, a fitted bodice with long sleeves, tapering at the wrist. Lace insets trimmed the colonial style skirt which ended in a long train. Her finger tip veil of illusion fell from a crown of eed pearls and rhinestones. She wore a single strand of pearls, the groom's gift, and a white orchid topped the white Bible, which she carried. The Bible was a gift from her father.

Her sister, Miss Delores Walters, who served as maid-of-honor, wore an aqua taffeta gown, styled with a marquisette yoke in an off-the-shoulder effect, the bodice being fitted. Miss Hazel Walters, another sister of the bride, and Miss Joan Wagner were bridesmaids, being attired in yellow taffeta gowns, fashioned like the maid-of-honor's. The attendants' mitts matched their gowns, and they wore wreaths of orange blossoms in their hair. Their crescent bouquets were of chrysanthemums and baby mums.

Lloyd Kapcewich served as best man for his brother, while George Walters, the bride's brother, and Russell Wilson were ushers.

A bouquet of white chrysanthemums, flanked by ferns and palms, centered the tastefully arranged altar which was also decorated with white tapers in branched candelabra.

Nuptial organ music was offered by Edward Jenkins who accompanied Ralph Polding who sang "Because," "I Love But Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Approximately 250 guests were entertained at reception in the church social room, where refreshment were served by the Prudence Clements Missionary society. Miss Delores DeCarbo and Miss Jean Kapcewich, the groom's sister, poured, while Mrs. G. W. Hartman, the bride's aunt, cut the wedding cake.

Upon returning from a motor trip to an undisclosed destination, the young couple will reside at Fayette, where he is engaged in farming. The bride, a graduate of New Castle senior high school in the class of 1948, has been employed at the G. C. Murphy company. The groom, who attended New Wilmington high school, served in the army during World War II.

MAKE THE 30-DAY CAMEL MILDNESS TEST—SEE WHY...

MORE PEOPLE SMOKE CAMELS than any other cigarette!

"With all the singing I do, I have to be kind to my voice. I smoke Camels—the cigarette that agrees with my throat!"

Martha Tilton

POPULAR SINGING STAR

"I know how mild a cigarette can be ever since I made the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test! It was fun. It was sensible. It didn't ask me to make up my mind on just one puff or one sniff... one inhale or one exhale. I had a chance to enjoy flavorful Camels day after day for 30 days. I had plenty of time to find out how welcome Camel mildness is to my throat! Now I know why more people smoke Camels than any other cigarette."

NOTED THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT ON 30-DAY TEST OF CAMEL SMOKERS...

Not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking CAMELS!

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days.

NEW PARTY LINE

French officials have been noting, with a mixture of relief and suspicion, that sabotage and Communist violence have almost stopped during the last few weeks. The French Communists, largest political party in France, are no longer using violence in the effort to halt American arms shipments and French arms production.

A year ago Moscow ordered its French stooges to get tough. There was a purge of allegedly lukewarm Communists by the French party. There was great ballyhoo expressing French determination to halt arms shipments and production. Now those orders have been reversed. Moscow has not had a change of heart, but has ordered a change in tactics.

The old tactics failed. They did not halt French rearmament. By their balant anti-patriotic attitude, they alienated the sympathies of the French people. Especially since the tide of battle changed in Korea, Communist prestige has been slipping.

The Communists will now try less direct methods. They will agitate for higher wages, a cause many French non-Communists will support. They will appeal to French thrift, which was outraged by their destruction of property, by denouncing rearmament as a waste of French money.

They will appeal to the pride of Frenchmen, and to their war-weariness, by denouncing the government's "warmongering American masters" and its "policy for war." Moscow now thinks they can do more damage that way.

Maybe so, but it is a good sign, nevertheless. It means that the Kremlin and its followers are discovering that their policy of arrogant force is working badly. They will now try to make friends, influence people and support popular causes.

LEARNING LESSONS OF WAR

Experience of the Korean war evidently did our armed forces much good, from a military standpoint. Weaknesses were revealed in intelligence, in supplies and training. These faults appear to have largely been analyzed, and remedies started. Had they remained untouched during, say, a war with Russia, it might have been calamitous.

Great Britain had the same experience in the South African war, half a century ago. This was the first serious struggle, except for wars in India, which the English had undergone since the Crimean war which ended in 1856. The outset was dismaying. English generalship proved incompetent, and for a time it seemed that South Africa might be lost.

Then the army was drastically overhauled, and eventually the war was won. This rough experience proved a lifesaver when World War I came. The Germans would have vanquished the British army that began the South African war; the army that fought them to a standstill had its birth in the disasters of South Africa.

WORLD WATCHING NOVEMBER 7

We think we have the greatest democracy in the world. Yet in free elections in the past few years, Britain, Australia, Italy, and even West Germany have vastly outstripped us in the basic democratic job of voting. Note that two of these countries had had long experience under dictators. Yet each found more than 80 per cent of the people voting when their first real elections were held.

We sneer at Russia and her satellites because they are limited to a single slate of candidates when they vote, and can merely record "yes" or "no." But 50 per cent of our own prospective voters didn't even exercise that much choice in 1948.

Constantly we have it dinned into our ears nowadays that if we're to lick world communism we must sell democracy abroad. The uncomfortable fact is we haven't been practicing it as well as some of the people we're supposed to be selling it to: the West Germans, for example.

None of this means, of course, that we don't care about freedom and its rights and duties. It just means that we've allowed the complexity and fascination of our big city-industrial life to distract us from our responsibilities.

By now, although, we ought to have seen enough of the world's present perils to realize that our beautiful, gadget-filled existence might be wiped right off the face of the globe if we don't make the right decisions. Those decisions are fundamentally the people's job. And they can only make them at the polls.

November 7 is another voting day, the first general election since 1948. The world will be watching to see whether Americans have learned to prize their voting rights.

Opening of school has increased employment, with more dads than ever working their sons' way through through college.

According to a New York newspaper some Swedes are wondering whether they are paying too high a price for their prosperity.

Prophets formerly predicted when the world would end. No one is attempting this today, although conditions seem to be propitious.

Russian history has been bloody since the year 1,000 A. D. And probably before that the boys weren't too gentle if the facts were known.

Thirty-one federal agencies, or three per cent of the total, have been ordered to cut spending. It will be interesting to check on this next year to see how it came out.

Truman-MacArthur Conference

A host of seemingly localized issues, spanning the map of the far Pacific from Calcutta to the outposts of American interests in the Hawaiian Islands ranged to the forefront as President Truman went to Wake Island for his meeting with Gen. Douglas MacArthur. From Washington, Honolulu and Tokyo, all dispatches placed the emphasis upon collaboration and cooperation between the chief executive and his supreme commander in the Pacific.

They made it emphatically clear that the two men, coming together face to face for the first time in their equally distinguished careers, were to place the sign and seal upon agreements reached over telephone and teletype to wipe out communist aggression in the Orient.

Many Problems

But there are many problems that present themselves and which may or may not be dealt with in those few hours when the president and general meet on a pinpoint of land in the Pacific wastes which has an irreplaceable spot of its own in the winning of World War II.

Great Britain, France and The Netherlands are represented in this meeting of minds and peace "without the use of guns" that prompted Mr. Truman to summon his Pacific commander for a conference in the middle of the Pacific ocean.

Yet these nations are vitally, if not mortally, interested in the crushing of communism in the far east and the revitalization of western democratic systems which for so long comprised a curb against excesses.

Rebellion in Indo-China. The French government is in a constant state of flux, due mainly to the communists' rebellion in Indo-China which is costing the Bank of France half a billion dollars a year and is draining off manpower considered essential for the defense of western Europe.

Great Britain remains heavily committed in Burma, the Malay peninsula, and above all, at Hong Kong, where thousands of communists are holding out with little more than a makeshift viaduct between them and communist strength on the China mainland.

The republic of Indonesia which Queen Juliana proclaimed in existence only a few months ago is a tenuous establishment, threatened at every moment by communist-inspired bands which seek to overthrow authority.

Philippines in Turmoil. And the Philippine Islands, presumably the strongest bulwark of American power in the far Pacific and the symbol in themselves of Gen. MacArthur's slogan "I shall return" are thrown in constant turmoil by the red-supported Huk-balahap factions that have dedicated themselves to death and disorder.

Obviously, all of these problems cannot be given a place on the brief agenda of the Truman-MacArthur meeting.

But they will be important in the background. Gen. MacArthur made it clear many years ago that he would not return to the United States until the issues of the Pacific with regard to the paramount interests of his own country had been cleared up.

Those issues, in the passage of years, have multiplied in place of the clarification he desired. They have necessitated a United Nations war under his high command for solution.

They still present one tangled problem after another, all interrelated, but in the final analysis—as expressed by President Truman and due for reiteration in the history-making days to come—"peace without gunfire."

This was the basis on which the United Nations was first established.

There was to be found a means not merely of outlawing war, as Aristotle and Frank W. Kellogg so fondly hoped, but of making it impossible, against a backdrop of bloody conflict, Mr. Truman and Gen. MacArthur are searching out some formula.

"WHISTLE STOP"

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Aim At German Rearmament

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 16.—The sound of clashing gears is audible here even to the visitor who passes through on the briefest sort of journey. Three months ago it was stated flatly as official American policy that the Germans would not be re-armed. Now the American objective is to bring about rearmament, in some form or other as quickly as possible.

The gear lever has been pushed from one direction to another and it is not surprising that quite a few people are confused and uncertain. This includes Americans as well as Germans.

The German reaction takes various forms. The great coal and steel industrialists of the Ruhr are talking very small about rearmament. Their story is that the German people are fearful of it; they do not want it. Martin Liebes, front man for the Ruhr industrialists in Dusseldorf said:

"One of your most important American officials was here recently. He told me that privately he was pleased that the stand of the French at the foreign ministers conferences had not allowed the Germans to form military units with their own commanders at this time. I replied to him, 'allowed? May I ask you who in Germany has requested permission to rearm?' No, it is not we who are asking for remilitarization."

In part, of course, this represents shrewd bargaining on the part of shrewd and determined men. In return for their approval, they will want to get the last remaining allied controls taken off so they will once again be firmly in the driver's seat.

But those who should know say that it also reflects a real desire for peace in the years immediately ahead. The Ruhr steel barons are apparently confident that they can out-compete France and Great Britain in peacetime rivalry for the European market. They expect public approval of the Schuman plan to pool Europe's steel and coal production.

Causes Concern. The proposal for rearmament causes deepest concern among those Germans who have worked earnestly for a democratic Germany. This includes the Social Democrats who survived Nazism and World War II and who have co-operated most readily with the American policy of de-Nazification and demilitarization. These leaders, who also have the truest understanding of the threat of Communism, with its suppression of all freedoms, are deeply troubled.

When they speak frankly, American officials talk of urgent necessity of trying to win over this element to accept the arming of some German units within a west European army.

The group that really welcomes rearmament is the former officer class from general down to sergeant. They are eager to put on a uniform again. But how they would behave once they were in uniform is precisely what alarms those who still believe that Germany can follow a democratic path if given half a chance.

War Horrors Vivid. For most of the German people, as for all Europeans, the memory of the horrors of the last war are still terribly vivid. They still walk among the rusting ruins of that holocaust. And, if one can accept the word of long-time observers, the nationalism that was produced so many violent eruptions in the past is now at a low ebb.

Therefore, so runs the argument of American high commissioners John J. McCloy, this is the moment to get the Germans to agree to become part of a west European army under a unified command. His aides say that in the recent conferences in New York and Washington he resisted the American military demands to re-establish a German army complete with a general staff.

McCloy believes that if this were done, with American authorization, we should promptly lose the confidence of most Germans, who would regard such a revival with fear and foreboding.

Problem Narrows. So the problem comes down to taking one step toward rearmament within the western European framework and to persuading the average German to overcome his doubts and uncertainties and move along this new road.

One persuader will be the sending of additional American troops to west Germany. Unless there are new and unexpected demands from the Korean war, the hope of Americans here is that the new troops will arrive before Christmas. This will mean complications, particularly as to housing, despite the fact that the soldiers will not be allowed to bring their dependents with them. But the new troops will be taken as a pledge of America's defense of western Germany and that pledge, in the belief of American planners, will help to align most Germans behind a western European defense system. That at any rate, is the hope in this land that has so long lived without hope.

One Man's Opinion. I just heard one of our UN lady delegates peddling coffee, soap and radios on the air. Are things that tough?

But this is the only delegate who can say "If you have any questions about world peace, I will be happy to answer them, and also send you a free home wave kit."

Big name guests are being booked for the program and as soon as they get a cigar account, Churchill will be over to give his views on peace and panatellas.

Delegate Austin has done a few sustaining programs for the Voice of America but so far hasn't auditioned for the tooth paste and cereal market. Obviously he needs an agent.

Our eventual hope is to raise the dignity of our UN delegation to the standards of such moulders of public opinion at Kukla, Fran and Ollie.

We want to be able to point to our delegation and say "there they stand... not only the best brains in the country but every one of them loaded for commercial spots."

Quiet! Stand by for them!

Economic "Sweet Talkers"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—In war, of course, it is foolish to count the cost. It does not make sense in our situation to haggle over the amount of defense appropriations nor squeal about the size of the debt. Whatever is needed must and will be supplied. There is no dissent from that. That is a genuine bipartisan policy, accepted as such in both Congress and the country.

Hence, there is no use becoming excited at the prospect of a ten billion Federal dollar deficit and defense spending at the annual rate of $45,000,000,000 or even $50,000,000,000. Certainly we are headed toward those figures. They are stupendous, indeed, but we may as well face them and get used to them. There isn't anything else to do. However, it is well calculated to increase our burdens and enhance the national peril if deliberately we cast aside the elemental rules of arithmetic and accept the loose though lovely doctrine that without undue effort on our part, everything will come out exceedingly well if we believe it will.

That is not exactly the way the Administration would describe its fiscal policies at the moment, but unless it is being grossly misrepresented by its chosen mouthpieces, that is what it really means. It has not actually adopted the happy belief of Mr. Henry Wallace and his more "progressive" friends that the size of the national debt is without importance because "we owe it to ourselves." But the general idea is not so very much off that track. It isn't the amount the war or the threat of war is going to cost us that is appalling. The appalling thing is the kind of counsel and advice Mr. Truman is receiving from his so-called Council of Economic Advisers.

According to usually well-posted writers whose personal relations with the Council of Economic Advisers are concededly close, it is advising Mr. Truman that the national economy not only can stand expenditures of $50,000,000,000 a year for defense but will not crumble under $70,000,000,000 or $80,000,000,000. These titanic totals are reached by adding to the prospective $50,000,000,000 for defense, $25,000,000,000 for nondefense expenditures. The astonishing thing is that the President is being told that he need not be afraid of these figures because "nondefense expenditure naturally increase with defense expenditures."

This, of course, is exactly the reverse of the conviction held by Senator Byrd, Senator Douglas and a great many others in and out of Congress who naively believe the only way the nation can achieve the financial strength to bear the enormous defense expenditures is to cut heavily all nondefense expenditures. Senator Byrd has pointed out ways by which $5,000,000,000 a year could thus be saved. The Hoover report has offered bipartisan proof of this. Others have urged that rigid economy is called for in everything except national defense and up to now the soundness of this theory, while not practiced by the Administration, has not been questioned.

Certainly, it is the theory upon which the Treasury is offering its new savings bonds as a sound investment, but it appears distinctly not the theory of the Council of Economic Advisers. According to it those who urge reduction in nondefense spending are just plain ignorant. Now, the President is advised that nondefense expenditures must increase instead of decrease; that there is no need for economy; that the American system is so astonishingly powerful that "it can stand a very heavy load for a very long time without any disastrous collapse in the standard of living."

This is to be made possible, it is explained, by a production expansion from $280,000,000,000—the present guessed-at figure—to a minimum of $350,000,000,000 or possibly even $500,000,000,000. There is no doubt about this, it is asserted, "if the economy of the country is properly managed." Taxes, of course, must be high, but the Government "economists" do not believe "controls need be as rigid or as all-embracing as in the last war." As wages are not mentioned by the veracious reflectors of the Council, their control is assumed not to be vital and the recent belated steps along those lines are not too serious an effort to pay as we go. In other words, two and two just do not make four any longer. To be sure, they haven't in Washington for a long time.

Everything is to be all right because production will grow perhaps 100 per cent in the next few years. It grew in the last war, so it must in this. That the "economic experts" upon whom he must rely should be pouring this comforting sort of "sweet talk" into the Truman ear is the most frightening thing in Washington today. Its potentiality for harm cannot be exaggerated. Before any of the long-delayed White House appointments of stabilizers and controllers can get into action—if action they are going to take—the wage increases that mean more inflation will have taken place—with Administration approval—and the cost of arming—and everything else—will needlessly have doubled. As Mr. Arthur Knicker recently wrote "the lesson of two wars will have been ignored." The indisputable reason, which ought to arouse nation-wide resentment, is Administration "labor politics." Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"The trivial round, the common task,
Would furnish all we ought to ask—
Room to deny ourselves; a road
To bring us daily, nearer God."

These lines were written many, many years ago by John Keble, Anglican clergyman and poet.

I quote them today because they apply so fittingly to a man about whom I want to talk a little while.

His name was Alexander Loneragan. You probably never heard of him. No monuments will be erected to his memory.

He will never be recorded by history as one of the great. But, with every day, during his life he came a little nearer to God, in whose realm he now dwells.

Alexander Loneragan was a gardener, or landscape architect, as this vocation is called nowadays in more euphemistic terms.

But he himself never thought of himself as more than a gardener. For five years he tended my garden and many others in our neighborhood.

His entire working life was devoted to flowers and trees, to lawns and shrubs, and Nature to him was an intimate associate.

Aleck, as he was called by almost everybody, must have got his gentleness from the flowers that were his wards.

He knew each of them by name, he knew how to bring out the best in every one of them.

When he predicted rain for a certain day, we knew that it would rain that day. Nature never disappointed him.

Aleck knew when frost would come, when it was time to take in the house plants, when the snow fences should be put up.

In all his life, except for absolute emergency, he never missed a Sunday in church.

Without wealth or college education he was a true GENTLEMAN, a devoted husband, a loving yet efficient father.

For the past year his son has been working with him, and in all my life I never saw a more beautiful.

But knowledge of his job was not his greatest virtue.

His greatest virtue was his RELIABILITY.

When he promised to do something he did it.

When he told you he'd be there on a certain day you never had to worry whether he'd keep his promise.

He never stayed a minute longer than he had to. He never wasted a minute of the time for which he was paid.

He never stayed a minute longer than he had to. He never wasted a minute of the time for which he was paid.

In all his life, except for absolute emergency, he never missed a Sunday in church.

Without wealth or college education he was a true GENTLEMAN, a devoted husband, a loving yet efficient father.

For the past year his son has been working with him, and in all my life I never saw a more beautiful.

Tobin Seeking Jurisdiction

Wants Control Of Defense Function On Manpower

(Special to Central Press)
WASHINGTON—Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin, who tried in vain to get control of the government's strike-mediation duties, is losing no time in asserting his claim to defense manpower functions.

The cabinet officer issued an order setting up a defense manpower control office under his jurisdiction. He hasn't named anyone to head it but hopes the existence of the directive will forestall efforts of other agencies to move into the manpower field. There is quite a bit of sentiment around Washington for the creation of an independent unit, like World War II's Manpower Commission, to supervise recruitment of workers for the defense program.

Tobin, whose department is little more than a statistic gathering agency with few active functions in the labor field, is opposed to the independent agency proposal. He wants the job handled in his shop.

The secretary last year lost a vigorous fight to return the Conciliation Service to his agency. Congress decided to keep it independent under the direction of Cyrus S. Ching.

Ching has an office adjacent to Tobin but the cabinet member has nothing to say about the vital labor problem of strikes.

Korean Worry

One of Washington's chief worries today is that the North Korean settlement may leave the Communists in position for a comeback.

Military and diplomatic leaders realize that stabilization of Korea under a United Nations occupation force will be difficult because the large Red underground will be helped by China and Russia, just as always.

Still, anything less than complete occupation of Korea and elimination of all Reds will enable Stalin to conquer the country from within, again, whenever he wants to.

Special British and French factors working toward appeasement weaken the allied front. The British want to keep the Chinese Reds out of Hong Kong and the French want to keep them out of Indo-China.

The two nations would pay a price, including Red membership in the United Nations, for a deal that would create a truce in the Far East.

Marines

The Pentagon won't admit it, but many Capitol observers believe that the United States Marines will provide the nucleus and most of the muscle—for the United Nations police force.

The belief gains strength from the firm stand taken by Chairman Carl Vinson (D), Georgia, of the House armed services committee in backing a four-division Marine Corps of 326,000 men. The figure includes 24 air squadrons.

Chief points made by those who expect the Leathernecks to form at least the cadre of a UN Police Force are these:

1—The Marines are a unique body of fighting men, trained for combat on the ground, in the air, and across the seas on the shortest notice.

2—The Marines provided the offensive punch in Korea which wrecked the North Korean Red army as a cohesive fighting force.

3—Vinson's public endorsement of a quick build-up of Marine Corps strength seems to argue for more Marines, in relation to the Army, Navy and Air Force in being than would otherwise be warranted.

Vinson says he is convinced that President Truman would make no attempt to block the Marine build-up.

An emerald mine that belonged to Cleopatra is still in existence near the shore of the Red sea in upper Egypt. No emeralds are found there now.

Life Still Bright For Don

With courage and tenacity Don McMillin looks to the future from his bed in the Jameson Memorial hospital. Don had his spine severed in a swimming accident over three years ago and has been hospitalized ever since.

Don McMillin was admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital on June 10, 1947 at the age of 17 years.

On that day he had been swimming with some members of his family and friends in the Neshannock creek, near East Brook.

One of his friends dared him to dive from the bank into some shallow water. Don dove in but struck bottom and came up with a broken neck and a severed spinal cord.

He was rushed to the Jameson Memorial hospital, paralyzed from his shoulders down.

Still in Hospital
Today he is still in the same hospital but now has the use of his arms and more of the upper part of his body. He exercises daily with rubber balls and can even pull himself up with his arms.

It has been a long hard struggle for Don—these past three and a half years—but he has made the best of it with the help of the doctors, friends and hospital personnel.

He spends most of his time reading, but is looking forward to the time when his arms and hands will be strong enough for him to do some constructive work with them. All hospital and doctors' expenses have been donated to Don. The cost to the hospital is estimated at $12,000, while it is impossible to estimate the cost of services that doctors have given free of charge.

Community Chest Helps

Hospital expenses, however, are not paid by the hospital alone. They are paid by all of us who give to the Community Chest. It is through Community Chest funds that Don, and others that have met with such accidents, may be cared for.

Asked if there was anything that he would like to have that he doesn't have, Don replied that there wasn't. He has a radio that is at present getting fixed and is supplied with books and magazines by hospital personnel, friends and relatives.

He faces the future with as much—if not more—faith and courage than most of us, who have been much more fortunate than he.

ful relationship than that between this simple father and his son.

A couple of weeks ago Aleck complained that he was not feeling well. He and his son were on one of their jobs.

The son suggested that he should go home. Aleck demurred at first but finally agreed.

He got into his truck beside his son, who was driving. Just as they were crossing the bridge over the river Harold, the son, felt his father's head on his shoulder.

He looked. He stopped. Aleck was dead. His brave heart had given out.

WHY FRY?

People who are inclined to obesity have a tough time figuring out the right things to eat. They usually have a good appetite and enjoy eating.

Their big difficulty seems to be with fried food. Sometimes they forget about the fat used in frying.

Egg plant or corn pone or potatoes or parsnips are pretty low on fat, but when they are fried they soak up a lot of it.

Buckwheat cakes are the favorite American fruit in the winter time but there seems to be only one way to cook them.

Churchill Sees Improved Hope For Peace With Russia

BLACKPOOL, England, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Winston Churchill declared that "hopes of reaching a peaceful settlement with Russia have been improved" as a result of United Nations victories in Korea. The former prime minister said in an address to the British Conservative party conference at Blackpool that "what has happened in Korea has set world peace on stronger foundations".

Churchill long has been an advocate of the democratic world achieving military parity with the Soviets before seeking to negotiate a settlement of differences.

He said, "we admire the skillful conduct of the (Korean) campaign by that great soldier Gen. MacArthur."

The Conservative leader warned, however, that the free world must not "become too deeply involved in the far east because the dangers there are on a very small scale" compared with Europe.

Believes Third War Can Be Avoided

CAMP ATTERBURY, Ind., Oct. 16.—(INS)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, believes a third world war can be avoided by immediate mobilization and stopping the aggression in Korea. Gen. Collins told members of the 28th division at Camp Atterbury.

"The important thing is not to let down after the war in Korea." The army chief credited tactical support with saving the United Nations ground forces from defeat in Korea.

He advocated that the defense of Europe should be left largely up to Europeans.

Your New Social Security

By MYRON MILBOUER

(Manager of the New Castle Social Security Office)

(Number 13)

In discussions of old-age and survivors insurance under Federal social security, you hear a lot about "currently" and "fully" insured. These are the two ways in which a worker may be insured. Since they are not the same, and since different kinds of social security payments are called for by each, I'm going to devote this article to them.

Currently Insured

A worker who is only currently insured does not yet have old-age insurance rights. In case of his death, however, his children under 18 may become entitled to monthly insurance payments. These will continue until they reach age 18. If the children are being cared for by his widow (or divorced wife with a child in her care) and she was being supported by the worker, she too gets benefits during the minority of the child. In case of more than one child, her benefit payments continue until the youngest child is 18.

Employment Required

Roughly, one and a half years of work covered by social security during the last three years.

Under the amended law, benefits are payable to a dependent husband of a woman worker who died after August 31, 1950, if she was both currently and . . .

Fully Insured

A worker who is fully insured when he becomes 65 has old-age insurance rights. If a worker is fully insured at the time of his death, his widow and children may get monthly insurance, as in the case of a currently insured person. In case the worker is fully insured, however, the widow's monthly insurance payments will not end permanently when the youngest child reaches 18. At age 65, such a widow, who has not remarried, may file an application for widow's benefits and her payments will be resumed. If the deceased worker left no widow or minor children, and if she is survived by parents who were dependent upon him, the parents may qualify for benefits if they have reached age 65. In such cases, the parents must file proof of dependency within two years after the insured worker's death.

Employment Required: (roughly) Must have worked at least a year and a half, or half the time since he became 21, or half the time since 1950. Anyone who has worked in a job covered by social security for ten years is fully insured for the rest of his life.

Children who were not living with their father at the time of their mother's death may have monthly insurance benefits based on their mother's social security account. If the children were living with their father at the time of their mother's death, they may have monthly payments based on her social security account, but only if she were both currently and fully insured under the social security law. A dependent widow, also, is not entitled to benefits unless the deceased woman worker was both currently and fully insured.

David Yee Given College Honor

ANGOLA, Ind.—Oct. 16—David Yee, son of Mr. Chack H. Yee, 26 W. Washington street, New Castle, has been elected Sigma Mu Sigma Fraternity's representative to the Interfraternity Council, at Tri-State College.

A 1948 graduate of New Castle high school, Mr. Yee also served as vice-president of Sigma Mu Sigma Fraternity and is a member of Skull & Bones, C. O. A., national honorary fraternity which recognizes both leadership and scholastic ability.

Blue Card System Aids Housewives

LA GRANDE, Ore.—(INS)—The La Grande Chamber of Commerce uses the Blue Card system to protect the long-suffering housewife from being duped by traveling agents.

Under the system the housewife who demands to see the blue card issued by the Chamber before dealing with a door-to-door salesman knows that Chamber officials have looked into the firm's background. This means that if the salesman promises to deliver nylon stockings he will do so—and they will be the kind of nylons he represented them to be.

Chamber officials emphasize that the card does not mean the Chamber endorses the product.

Before issuing the card the Chamber manager checks an agent's credentials, and if there is any doubt as to the firm's legitimacy, checks the business through the Better Business Bureau and similar organizations.

The system isn't a device to eliminate competition to local business.

If the business has a legitimate record the representative will be given a card even though his merchandise may be inferior to the local product—or even if it is so superior that no one would pass it up to buy the local offerings.

Does it work?

One door-to-door photographer said that at seven out of the first nine stops made the lady of the house wanted to see his card.

Report Hurricane In Bermuda Area

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS)—The weather bureau at Washington National Airport reported that the Atlantic hurricane was about 550 miles northeast of Bermuda at 4:30 a.m., EST, today, and was heading out to sea.

In its last advisory on the storm, the bureau said that the storm was moving northeast, about 20 miles an hour but was expected to pick up speed during the day and tonight, and that the area of gale winds, extending outward about 200 miles from the storm's center, would expand.

Winds were estimated at 75 miles per hour at the center of the hurricane.

MIAMI, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Tropical storms in the Caribbean area reached hurricane proportions today and storm warnings were posted along the Florida coast from Palm Beach to the Florida Keys.

The Miami weather bureau said winds of 75 miles per hour were recorded at the center of the hurricane located 140 miles southwest of Cuba.

All Time Record For Egg Production Made In September

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.—(INS)—An all-time September record of 238,000,000 eggs produced in Pennsylvania was announced today by State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst.

September was the 13th consecutive month that the number of layers and eggs reached record peaks in the commonwealth.

Milk production, however, fell 8,000,000 pounds short of the all-time September record set last year, according to federal-state surveys.

New production records had been set for 13 consecutive months by dairy herds on Pennsylvania farms, the surveys revealed.

Last month's milk production totaled 475,000,000 pounds compared with 483,000,000 in September, 1949, and 507,000,000 in August of this year.

Enon Valley Orchard Has Yield Of 12,000 Bushels

Lawrence county apple orchards worked overtime this year, the 1950 crop reveals, as the harvest swings into earnest over the next few days. Although ten days to two weeks late this year, due to so many cloudy days in the summer, the crop is more prolific than ever.

Enon Valley orchardist, A. F. Arnold, who almost eats, drinks and sleeps apples the year round, reports that the abundant crop of the fruit almost ruined sections of his orchard as the hundreds of apples hung from the limbs, in many instances splitting the trees.

"Gus" Arnold, as he is familiarly known in the Enon Valley section, has been turning out good crops of apples for the past 20 or more years and each year, around apple picking time the profitable hobby seems to gain more interest and becomes more fascinating.

Eleven months of the year Mr. Arnold and his son, Dick, operate the 29 acre orchard as they mulch, spray, prune and do the countless other tasks that all go for making an A-1 orchard. In the between hours, the two Arnold men are found buried "knee deep" in literature which keeps them posted in the latest apple growing methods.

The 12,000 bushel crop of hand picked apples are not just the result of chance or luck, Mr. Arnold reported, but the result of much effort, using scientific methods and keeping constantly on the job combating various insects and diseases with the proper sprays. Ten different sprays were mechanically placed on the trees of the orchard during the growing season.

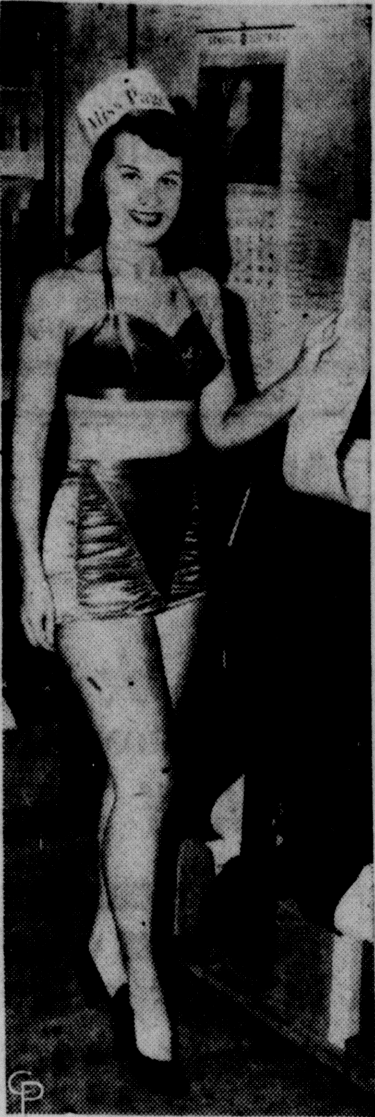

When the crop is ready for harvest, the word spreads through the district and Amish residents, mail carriers, mill workers and railroad men come in to relieve the trees of their heavy burden.

Staymen, Rome Beauty, Delicious and Grimes Golden are among the leaders in quantity this year. The large crop will be stored in the Arnold refrigerated storage building where graders are working at present as the apples are uniformly packed in crates for the market.

As in the past, Mr. Arnold largely depends on Lawrence County residents to make their way to the farm to supply their apple needs. Some of the crop is marketed in Pittsburgh while other portions goes to Beaver Falls and nearby cities.

When not working in the apple orchard, in between times, Mr. Arnold and Dick do find time to raise a 1,000 or so chickens, milk a few cows and harvest several crops. The Arnolds are members of the Presbyterian church of Enon Valley and belong to Big Beaver Grange.

BARBARA MARLOWE, wearing a costume no newspaperwoman should be without, will reign at the Hammond, Ind., Newspaper Guild's first annual Page One Ball in Calumet City Saturday night, Oct. 21. Medical Men Register Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Some 5,000 government-trained medical men register at their local draft boards today for prospective calls to service in the expanding United States armed forces.

The first calls will go out next month for 922 physicians and surgeons, 500 dentists and 100 veterinarians to fill current needs of the Army.

Draft Director Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, meanwhile, asserted that all dependency deferments, except for fathers, may be wiped out to meet President Truman's goal of a three-million-man fighting force by June. However, Hershey emphasized that no such formal requests have yet been made to the White House.

Congress passed a law last month requiring the registration of all medical men in the country less than 51 years old and making them subject to induction for military duty.

The legislation was enacted when defense officials said that not enough volunteers were being obtained to meet growing requirements of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

State Of Emergency Declared In Israeli

TEL AVIV, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Israel declared a state of emergency today to head off complete collapse of the country's shaky economy under the impact of military maneuvers which might disrupt transport, communications and supply services.

The perilous economic situation forced the resignation yesterday of the coalition cabinet of Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion. By declaring an emergency, the government also gained the necessary powers to avoid a collision of military and civilian needs during the maneuvers.

Army, Navy and Air Force reserves were called to the colors for the maneuvers which will test the new structure of the Israeli reserve system.

Ben-Gurion, Israel's first prime minister, was forced to resign when the Orthodox Religious bloc reportedly refused to go along with his plans to reorganize the cabinet to deal more effectively with the young nation's economic troubles.

Rival Dog Food Announces No Increase in Price

CHICAGO, October 16.—In these days of rising prices, there is one item in the family shopping bag whose price tag brings a smile of gratitude from dog owners. It is the familiar can of Rival Dog Food, which continues to carry the low price of 10¢ for the full pound can. The Rival Packing Company of Chicago, in spite of rising costs of all elements which go into the making of Rival Dog Food, is holding the line on price, and thus winning the thanks of America's millions of dog owners.

Same High Quality

In announcing its intention to hold the price line, the Rival Packing Company of Chicago stresses the fact that the high quality of Rival Dog Food remains unchanged. The same rigid standards are applied in checking the purity, wholesomeness and food value of every ingredient that goes into Rival Dog Food. "The secret of maintaining price and quality, when manufacturing costs are rising," state Rival officials, "is large volume. America's dog owners have made that possible, by purchasing Rival Dog Food in ever-increasing quantities."

Production Capacity Increased
The pyramiding demand for Rival Dog Food has made it necessary to add to Rival's manufacturing capacity. As a result, Rival Packing Company is now constructing additional plant facilities which will greatly increase production.

Cars Damaged In Collision

Several hundreds of dollars damage was caused two motor cars at 12:25 a.m. Sunday, at the junction of Route 224 and Grandview avenue, Union township, when both cars crashed. No one was hurt.

According to Ralph E. Ferree, R.D. 2, he waited for traffic to clear.

It was wet and his foot slipped off the gas pedal, causing the car to lurch into the intersection.

He applied the gas to try to get across the intersection but his car was struck on the left rear by a machine driven by Ernest Eakin, 1310 Croton avenue.

Barton reports Travers was hitch-hiking and Barton picked him up at Toledo, O. Travers had several checks in his possession. He was to be questioned concerning them.

Meanwhile, Barton charged him with larceny before Alderman James C. Brice.

Ecumenical Mass Meeting Held Sunday

Program Presented At Epworth Church Most Successful

Impressive was the service conducted in Epworth Methodist church Sunday afternoon, when the ecumenical register of women and girls of Protestant congregations in Lawrence county was dedicated. The meeting, held under the auspices of the new Castle Panel of the United Council of Church Women with Mrs. J. F. Rentz as chairman.

The service opened with a prelude of music, offered by Mrs. Anna Moore Pyle, organist of the host church. Mrs. Rentz, president of the local Church Women, who presided, gave the call to worship and likened our services to the church to Mary's pouring expensive oil on Jesus' feet. The president reminded the Christian women that Friday, November 3, will be observed as World Community Day, when clothing will be collected for the poor of our state.

Mrs. Rentz, who stated that the word "ecumenical" means "the whole household of God" to a Christian, added that "You are making history, Christian history." The ecumenical register will probably never happen again.

Mrs. Hemenway Speaks
Mrs. L. F. Hemenway told of activities of the Pennsylvania Council of Church Women, having attended a board meeting last January in Harrisburg. The speaker stated that the Pennsylvania Council of Church Women includes 22 Protestant denominations. People in 900 communities sponsored World Day or Prayer services, this being the largest number in any state.

Mrs. Hemenway stressed the importance of migrant workers, especially for the need of Christian workers among them. She told of how Rev. Elud Rodriguez, a minister who worked with 890 Puerto Ricans in Lancaster county, had helped this group of workers under the direction of the Pennsylvania Council. After their work had been done in this state, they did home missionary work in their own land, accomplishing what it would have taken 600 missionaries to do.

Dedication Service
The dedication of the ecumenical register of Protestant women of Lawrence county was done in an effective manner with Mrs. David McCreary acting as soloist and Mrs. Marshall Matheny as narrator. An interdenominational verse choir, composed of New Wilmington women, aided in the service.

Women, representing various churches, presented their ecumenical registers to Mrs. Rentz, announcing the number of cards that had been signed by members of their congregation. There were 2,133 cards dedicated Sunday. Over 1,000 cards have not been returned. The local panel expects to receive these cards by Tuesday, October 31. The registration may be sent to Mrs. J. F. Rentz, 219 Winter avenue, or Mrs. Charles Campbell, 913 Dewey avenue.

Mrs. A. D. Moore, leader of the Ellwood City Council of Church Women, reported 465 registrations from Ellwood City. Over 200 cards have not been returned from that district. New Wilmington district was the next largest in the sections outside New Castle, that group reporting 123 enrollments.

Mrs. Rentz and members of the Panel of the Local Council of Church Women, are gratified at the fine response from leaders of the various churches in this county. Mrs. Hemenway expressed the group's appreciation to Mrs. Rentz for what she is doing in Christian work for our community.

Purpose of Registration
Each woman, who registered, contributed a dollar for the advancement of interdenominational work among church women and received a card with its prayer of dedication. "The women are listed by names, addresses and denominations in the National Register," Mrs. Rentz explained.

The ecumenical register will culminate at the United Council's Assembly in Cincinnati, O., November 13-16, when there will be a dedication of the entire registration. The enrollment of church women is designed to show the strength and loyalty of Protestant women in the state and local affiliates as the United Council of Church Women joins seven other interdenominational agencies in the new National Council of Churches of Christ at the end of 1950. "State and local councils of church women will not only maintain their identity after the National Council is organized," Mrs. Rentz added, "but will also grow as a part of the larger movement of United Church Women."

Redskins Have Signed Justice

Former Star Gets $20,000 Yearly

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Oct. 16.—(INS)—Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice, University of North Carolina football great, announced today that he has signed a contract with the Washington Redskins.

The announcement came as a surprise because the triple-threat back who completed four seasons with Carolina last year had previously declared he had no intention of playing professional ball.

Three-Year Contract

Terms of the three-year contract were not disclosed, but it was unofficially reported that Justice will receive $20,000 a year.

Justice left Chapel Hill Sunday for Washington. He has been an assistant at the North Carolina Medical Foundation since his graduation.

Justice said: "This was the hardest decision I've ever made in my life. My previous decision not to play pro ball were made in good faith and according to my honest convictions at the time."

"I realize I've appeared wishy-washy, but there have been new developments. The offer made last week by the Redskins was so attractive, that I couldn't turn it down."

Rumor has it that Peter the Great of Russia was unusually fond of riding in a wheelbarrow, and often toured a big city in one.

Chairs Fail, Mayor, Medure, Save Selves

During council meeting held in city hall today two accidents, at different times occurred, hence there'll be an "SOS" sent out for new chairs.

While the mayor was conducting proceedings his chair gave way and he almost fell to the floor. Five minutes later Mr. Medure's chair weakened and down it went. He saved himself by grasping the council table.

"There's going to be a rush call for new chairs," said Mr. Medure. Council decided upon new chairs some time ago but the present chairs gave way before the new ones were bought.

51% MORE ELECTRIC GENERATING CAPACITY IN PENNSYLVANIA SINCE 1945

Pennsylvania has plenty of power—electric power—to help America re-arm as well as an ample supply to meet today's exceptional civilian needs. In the short period since World War II the business-managed electric light and power companies of the state have added over two million kilowatts to their generating capacity—51% more than they had in 1945.

This great building program was done on the companies' own initiative without a cent of government money. Farsighted planning by the electric companies made the increases in power capacity the greatest in history. Even in today's emergency, electric power in Pennsylvania will not be "too little or too late."

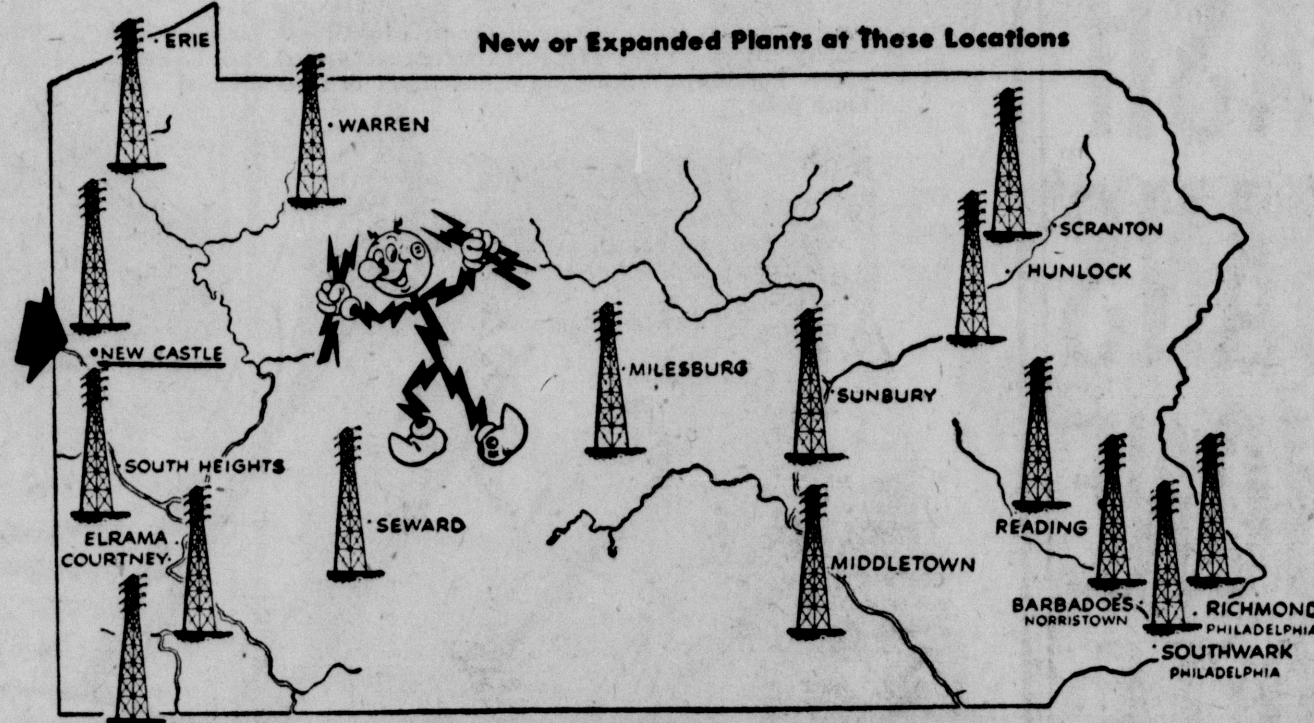

PENN POWER'S CAPACITY HAS BEEN INCREASED OVER 100% SINCE 1945 AND WILL BE INCREASED NEARLY 100% MORE BY LATE 1952

Our New Castle Power plant was completed in 1939, and the first unit was placed in operation that year, and in 1947 a second generating unit was placed in operation. This doubled the capacity of the plant.

At present construction is underway at the plant on an addition to house another turbo-generator which will again nearly double the plant's output. This latest addition will, when completed represent an expenditure of $12,500,000.

Inter-connections with neighboring utilities which also have expanded their capacity further guarantees a dependable source of electricity for you.

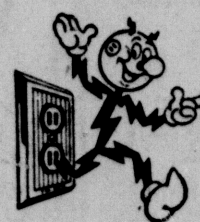

The business-managed electric industry is the one industry that has doubled its capacity, and reduced the cost.

So your government need not spend your tax money for Public Power (Political Electricity).

Since July, 1949, workmen have been busy on the new 85,000 kilowatt addition to the New Castle Power Plant. This is one of the largest construction jobs ever undertaken in this area and we believe you would be interested in seeing it. You are invited to an inspection tour at the plant—

Six Boys Held For Vandalism In Union Twp.

Within a short period from the time vandalism was reported in Union township, State police had six boys under arrest, all of whom were confined last night in the detention home, and against whom informations charging malicious mischief and larceny will be sworn against five of them. The sixth is charged only with malicious mischief.

According to State police, the sextette rode in an auto throughout the township using air-rifles to shoot out street lights.

They also tumbled over several shelters used by children to await school busses.

Five of them also were accused of stealing gasoline from the Farmall Tractor garage on Route 224.

The street lights were shot out in Scotland Lane, West Washington street extension, Cecil avenue and in the Oakland district.

The school children's shelters toppled over were in Sampson street.

Gov. Duff Shies Clear Of Move For Eisenhower

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today shied clear of the presidential drumbeating started by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey on behalf of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The governor said his refusal to join Dewey's endorsement was dictated (1) by his campaign for the U. S. Senate seat now held by Democrat Francis J. Myers and (2) because his primary political interest with 1952 presidential balloting in mind is limited to Pennsylvania.

Significantly, however, the governor pointed out that he was confining his remarks to Pennsylvania "for the time being."

Duff indicated during a brief interview that he considers a successful campaign for the Senate to be the forerunner to his participation in the role Pennsylvania will play in the GOP national convention in 1952.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Arthur Lubin hates cats but he is going to be closeted with 16 of them—one by one—next week when he makes his final choice for the star of his next picture, "Rhubarb."

The 16 represent southern California's finest alley cats. They are the finalists in a contest that saw over 100 cats sent to the Paramount casting office for consideration as top performer in the hilarious movie about a feline who inherits ten million dollars and a big league baseball club.

"I was spared the ordeal of interviewing the meowing 100 last week only because I was completing scenes for 'Queen For A Day' at another studio," said the veteran director.

"I dread the experience next week. Cats give me the creeps. Why couldn't author H. Allen Smith have had his leading character a dog instead of a cat. I like dogs—in fact, I have two of them—well behaved animals, too."

Has No Phobia

The director of "Francis," the talking mule saga, said that he does not exactly have a phobia for the felines, but that he would just as soon not be near them. He claims they look treacherous and do not invite a man's confidence.

The star of the picture will have three stand-ins, all alley cats too. Lubin must select the three runners-up also.

The four cats are to be turned over to a trainer who plans to take some of the orneriness out of them and get them used to the klieg lights and people moving about.

The only cats that did not have a chance in the "Rhubarb" tests were black ones. The cat in "Rhubarb" indulges in a numerous romantic escapades on back fences after the town goes to bed and a black cat just would not show up on film.

Best Dressed

Spencer Tracy will be the best dressed dad in town. The star returned from New York with a half-dozen new suits which he will wear for the first time in "Father's Little Dividend."

Notorious for his indifference to style in clothes, he was being kidded by his co-star, Joan Bennett, who wanted to know if his tailor had succeeded in adding any innovations to the Tracy standard suit.

"Well," drawled Tracy, "The gray is lighter, the blue darker and the brown tanner."

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By FR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

CHILDREN AND "RESEARCH"

Can you remember ever doing any research work when you were a youngster in school? More likely, you were expected to be responsible for "knowing by heart" a lot of dates, information about battles and state capitals?

Today a great many of our schools give youngsters really challenging tasks. Looking up in an encyclopedia information about openpit mining, determining whether there is any difference in the methods used in mining copper and in mining iron, is a real job. But it does a lot more to help a child learn than does an assignment to read and memorize a short paragraph or two about the same subject.

In other ways, too, today's youngsters know far more about the world around them than most of us did at their age. Perhaps this is hard for you to believe. You may feel that the necessary mechanical parts of learning are the only things of importance. Perfect spelling and absolutely accurate figuring to many a parent mean more than the fact that their youngsters have a better knowledge of how the United Nations works than do most grown-ups.

But before you start to take apart the modern school, stop and consider what might be the more important things? If youngsters learn the skills of getting information for themselves, accurately, speedily and fully, isn't that better than to try to store away a lot of memorized information that we know won't stick too long, anyway?

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Superior Court Judge Blair F. Gunther received an Americanism citation from the American Legion during the Pulaski Day ceremonies yesterday in Pittsburgh.

Vice President Resumes His Tour

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Vice President Alben W. Barkley resumed his 20-state political tour today after pausing in Pittsburgh to endorse the United Jewish Appeal.

More than 600 leaders of the campaign in the tri-state district attended the luncheon at which Barkley spoke yesterday.

In a talk with reporters, the 72-year-old "veep" forecast gains for his party in the election Nov. 7.

He flew to San Francisco late in the day. Barkley will return to Pennsylvania Oct. 24 and 25, appearing at Erie, Scranton, Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

Bullet Doesn't Bother This Tot

PITTSBURGH — (INS) — A three-year-old girl is amazing physicians at Children's hospital in Pittsburgh by riding her tricycle all around the hospital with a bullet lodged near her brain.

The child, Titian-haired Evelyn Bell, was accidentally shot while playing in her home in New Brighton, Pa., last July 27.

A nurse said: "It's really amazing to see her wheel around when you think what happened to her."

Doctors have not yet removed the .32 caliber revolver bullet because of Evelyn's condition. They have decided to "wait and see" what happens before attempting the delicate operation.

The bullet was fired from a gun which Evelyn and some playmates found in a trunk in the Bell home.

The puppet show gained favor in England after the Puritans banned live acting in 1642.

Intended Victim Escapes, But Three Bystanders Hurt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS)—If Charles Wilson, 37, were a little better shot, he would be in jail today on only one charge, instead of three.

As it is, he is charged on three counts of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Police said the trouble all started when Wilson and William Pleasant had an argument and Pleasant fled. Wilson drew his gun and fired, three stray bullets hitting three innocent bystanders, none of who was seriously wounded. No bullet hit Pleasant.

Note How Amazing Wonder Bread Compares With Meat, Milk, and Fish 8 Ways (as shown above)

365 days a year, 3 times each day—every mother is faced with this simple proposition: My child must eat enough of the right foods today—or slip behind in the race.

This group of common foods supplies ALL the essential food elements your child needs 365 days a year: Meat, milk, bread, fruit, yellow and green-leaved vegetables.

Thus, these are the foods you will want to give your child.

This is PENNSYLVANIA Week

CENERY, agriculture, minerals, industry, wildlife, rivers, streams—it takes a lot to make Pennsylvania the great state it is.

But most of all, it takes people! Here there are more than ten million of them—young and old, tall and short, of every creed and complexion.

Of these Pennsylvania people, some 30,000 . . . the men and women of Bell Telephone . . . provide an essential service that links together Pennsylvania's towns and cities and countryside. Nor is this their only contribution. As good citizens, they play important parts in many community activities. And as good customers of Pennsylvania business, they help to provide jobs and wages for people in many other lines.

In these troubled times, the nation looks to Pennsylvanians with confidence in their ability to harness their state's great power to America's needs. In supplying the products of farm, industry, and mine . . . and in providing skilled manpower for the nation's fighting forces . . . Pennsylvania has a tremendous job to do. And we of the Telephone Company are proud to furnish a service that unites Pennsylvanians for this vital task.

Payroll Tax Measure Is Now In Council

Question Of City Controller Office Under Discussion

When city council met in formal session at city hall today, solons unanimously voted for an ordinance, introduced by Councilman Richard I. Davis, designating the payroll tax for 1951, which shows the wage tax will be an average of 5 1/2 mills for the year.

The measure requires that the tax on wages, commissions and net profits from January 1, to July 1, be set at 5/10ths of one percent or five mills, or 50 cents on each $100 of valuation, and for the July 1-December 31 period, 6/10ths of one percent or six mills, or 60 cents on each $100 of valuation.

The bill was referred to committee.

RAIL-TOPPING COST

City Engineer John Z. Street reported to council that he estimated the cost of resurfacing West Washington street car rails would be either $1,205, or $2,673. If a light top is used the former sum will prevail, but if the state resurfaces the street, it would be necessary for the city to use a heavier course of blacktop, which would cost $2,673.

Upon motion of Councilman E. Gene Schweinsburg who wants the tracks covered, no action was taken, pending a decision as to whether or not the state highway department will permit the elimination of what Mr. Schweinsburg claims is a hazard.

NO ACTION ON LETTER

Miss Edith Cleaveland, who several days ago, was named upon motion of Councilman Albert A. Hoyland, as acting controller, to succeed Charles A. Kennedy, who is to report for military service Tuesday, submitted a letter to council today.

The letter said she accepted the temporary controller position, thanked council for the confidence vested in her and requested a leave of absence as a deputy in Mr. Hoyland's finance bureau.

She said she was willing to help Miss Martha Alexander, clerk in Mr. Hoyland's office, and added that she agreed to accept the acting controller position, providing she may resume her deputy's duties, upon Mr. Kennedy's return from service.

Offers Motion

Mr. Hoyland submitted a motion that council accept the letter.

Solicitor Robert White advised "I think the less said about this, the better. It has certain involvements. We appreciate Miss Cleaveland's attitude, but the letter should be filed, without action."

Mr. White said Miss Cleaveland had been elected, and her appointment will be confirmed next Monday, but he advised the letter not be made a part of the record. He said that "you cannot pass public office around" explaining that he realized council had made the appointment to save $2,100 (inasmuch as Miss Cleaveland would help Miss Alexander, thus eliminating the hiring of another clerk).

Mr. White said that the office is vacant until someone is elected to the controllership.

"There should be action on my motion," Mr. Hoyland remarked.

Move To Protect Kennedy
Mr. White reiterated that, when Mr. Kennedy leaves, the office of controller will become vacant, adding that "Miss Cleaveland will serve as acting controller until she resigns, or someone is elected."

Mayor John F. Haven said the appointment of Miss Cleaveland was brought about, by the desire to protect Mr. Kennedy's job. He said that, under Solicitor White's ruling offices of elected officials become vacant when their holders enter military service. He said the offices of appointees do not. He added that it was only natural that Miss Cleaveland would want to return to her deputy's position upon Mr. Kennedy's return.

Cannot Promise
"She cannot promise to quit if she gets the office," said Mr. White.

"No one has given a second to your motion," he told Mr. Hoyland. He added that, a lot of people are talking about it.

Mr. Hoyland replied that "Miss Cleaveland made a sacrifice by accepting the position as acting controller."

Mayor Haven advised that the motion be left as it was.

"Let someone put someone in Mr. Kennedy's place if council believes it was wrong," Mr. Hoyland declared. He echoed the mayor's words that she was named, only to protect Mr. Kennedy's job, and that he believed she is entitled to recognition for offering to take care of the duties of a deputy, in addition to doing the controller's job.

"She got the appointment," Mr. White responded, adding, "but if you jeopardize it with some kind of a pre-arrangement—You can't do this with a public office." Councilman Richard I. Davis then recited the law concerning officials when they take public office: "*about not promising anything."

The matter was dropped.

Pomona Grange Members Hear Congressman

East Brook Grange was host to the regular meeting of the Lawrence county Pomona Grange. The meeting convened for afternoon and evening sessions, with Pomona Master Dale Currie presiding. The address of the day was made by Hon. Louis E. Graham. He spoke concerning the Problems Confronting U. S. He reminded us that this is the most grave and crucial period of American history. The foreign situation is very alarming. We are in this situation because neither we nor congress were informed at proper time of action taken at conferences at Yalta and Tehran which Roosevelt attended, he said. Graham stated the war would get worse before it would get better. He cited the position of the British at Hong Kong, also informed us that in Indo-China the Russians are pushing the French back. The Communists control France and are preventing the French government from sending aid to them. In West Germany the situation is grave, the Russians have 176,000 divisions, 28,000 tanks and 19,000 airplanes on the alert in their sector.

Graham, speaking as a member of the judiciary committee, said they had been able to pass a bill to stop and search all ships 300 miles from our coast—one bomb coming in on a ship could do great damage at port. He said we will have the most rigid discipline this world has ever known. The army quota is set at 3,000,000. Our national debt is $257,000,000 but since June $58,000,000 more has been appropriated to that debt. The interest on our debt is $5,500,000,000. The tax bill will be increased $7,000,000,000 more. The individual share of the national debt is $1,693.75.

Our Worst Enemy
Graham stated that Communism, our worst enemy, is an international conspiracy to overthrow established government. Thirty-two per cent of the world's population is living under domination of Communism. British socialism is one step removed from Communism. There are more sympathetic communists in the U. S. today than there were in Russia in 1917 when they took over the government. Graham further stated that many of our railroad, aviation and industrial accidents today are the result of sabotage.

We are the most wasteful nation in the world, we must eliminate this. Must cut down bureaucracy. Forty-two per cent of our people vote; greatest country of freedom but we don't exercise it.

In closing Hon. Graham said we are fighting a fanatical type of being. There is only one answer to solving our problems—we must get back to God in national repentance. There is Sabbath desecration, the highest divorce rate in the world, more juvenile criminals—which will be future parents, increase in liquor consumption, the numbers racket and gambling dens are all destroying the fiber of America and are contrary to the laws of God. Future America is the result of present day parents who use no restraining influence. Of our population only 72,000,000 are on church rolls out of 152,000,000 inhabitants. We must get back to churches.

Book Review
Worthy Pomona Lecturer Olive Emery presented Mrs. Robert Cole who very ably gave the book review Cheaper By the Dozen. Following this Philip Maronde gave the declaration on Achievement of World Peace. The juveniles of East Brook Grange participated with Virginia Robinson, piano solo; Mary Shaffer, essay, Pennsylvania Resources; duet, Nancy and Anna Marie Corman.

In commemoration of Pennsylvania Week the evening session was opened by singing Foster melodies and solo by Mrs. Dale Currie, Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair. Following this, highlights of the Pennsylvania Grange history were given by W. Patterson, W. H. McCullough, J. A. Boak, Sharp Fullerton, Mrs. J. A. Boak and Glenn Patterson.

Solo, Eugene Fox, To the Beloved Grange. Mrs. Eugene Fox sang and pantomimed The Star Spangled Banner.

Francis Boak, Pomona treasurer, presented the Pomona Traveling Treasure Chest to Pomona Master Dale Currie. Boak gave a history of the chest.

The closing feature of the evening program was the exemplification of the fifth degree on a class of 52 candidates from the subordinate granges of the county. Logan Buckwalter was director of the degree team with Mrs. Harry Maughan as pianist.

Resolutions Passed
Pomona Grange passed a number of important resolutions which will be sent to state grange to be acted upon there. The resolutions are as follows:

RESOLUTION: Whereas, the staggering national debt and the gigantic cost of federal government is, or should be, a matter of grave concern to every citizen and whereas all grange members have a vital interest in our national welfare.

BE IT RESOLVED: That we the members of Pomona Grange No. 65 go on record as:

1. Approving the recommendation of the Hoover Commission cutting the costs of our federal government.

2. That we oppose the so-called "Brannan Plan for Agriculture" on the grounds that it stifles initiative, regiments production, and that the cost would be destructive to our national economy. AND we oppose any other program which would produce the same results.

3. As the farmers' contribution to the reduction of federal expenses, we recommend the elimination of payments of money and materials to farmers for so-called "conservation practices," thus eliminating, in addition, the expenses of the administration of this program.

State grange meets at York October 24, 25 and 26. A large number from the granges are planning to attend.

The grange young people will hold a banquet at Wilmington grange in November.

Pomona grange will meet December at Plain Grove grange, at which time the Butler County Pomona grange will present the Traveling Cornucopia program.

The National Geographic Society says Annapolis, Md., was probably the first city in America to be laid out in accordance with modern ideas of zoning and planning.

Three Hundred In Search For Missing Woman In Mountains

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Oct. 16.—(INS)—More than 300 searchers hunted last night for a 75-year-old woman missing in the mountains on the Indiantown Gap Military reservation while the mercury hovered around 40 degrees.

The missing woman, Lydia Mark of Palmyra, was with a party of picnickers near Moonshine church when she was last seen, police said they were told by Normal Krall, of Reistville, who was one of the party.

Police said Krall told them the aged woman was picking greens for decorations and wandered away in the heavily wooded section about 5:30 p. m. Sunday. Police were notified several hours later.

A detail of State troopers from the Indiantown Gap sub-station initiated the search and later were joined by volunteers, mostly from Palmyra.

A hen which lays 200 eggs a year requires 2½ pounds of limestone for the egg shells.

Wallet With $140 Reported Missing

Harry Johnson of 836 Almira avenue, reported to police Saturday that while he was shopping in East Washington street, a wallet containing $140, was either picked from his pocket, or lost.

A Los Angeles man accused of shoplifting was found to be carrying more than $6,000 in his pockets. He probably told bank tellers he was just looking.—Decatur Herald.

Increased Facilities Planned At Pymatuning Reservoir

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.—Pymatuning reservoir, the largest artificial body of water in Pennsylvania, is being developed under a multiple-use plan aimed at providing additional recreational facilities for the northwestern section of the commonwealth. Forests and Waters Secretary M. F. Draemel said today.

"Originally developed by the department to insure industry located below the dam a steady supply of water during dry periods and to provide flood protection to the population located in the Shenango river valley, recent developments at the reservoir will provide increased public recreational facilities at the 18-mile long lake without interfering in any way with the original purpose of the dam," Secretary Draemel said.

2,400-Foot Dam
Pymatuning reservoir is formed by a 2,400-foot dam located one mile north of Jamestown. Boating, fishing, swimming and picnicking facilities are presently available at the lower reservoir area. Thousands of boating and camping permits are issued annually to persons visiting the lake.

Departmental plans call for the development of a day-use and picnic area above the dam as well as a tent and trailer area along the southwestern shore of the reservoir.

The day-use area near the breast of the dam will contain a bathroom, a first aid and concession building, four large outdoor shelters, parking facilities, 200 picnic tables, 100 fireplaces and sanitary facilities.

To Provide Beach
A sand and turf beach will be provided at this recreational center and two diving floats will be available for swimming.

A tent and trailer area nearby will provide 181 camping sites, each containing a picnic table and fireplaces. A central recreation hall will be available at this area and an existing natural swimming beach will be improved and furnished with swimming floats.

Construction and expansion recently completed at the reservoir includes 100 new picnic tables; new docks and catwalks at Jamestown, Espsville and Linesville; 16 new wells drilled in the picnic and camping areas; enlargement of a main camping area and the planting of 150,000 forest tree seedlings on 173 acres located at the lower section of the lake.

Other recent projects by the department aimed at controlling the ravages of flood waters in Crawford county were the straightening, widening and diking of the channel of Little Sugar creek above its confluence with French creek in Cochranon borough and cleaning the gravel deposits from the channel of Thompson creek in Hydetown borough, the secretary said.

Foreign Secretary To Speak Tuesday

Dr. C. Warren Jones, former foreign secretary of the Nazarene denomination, will speak Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Church of the Nazarene located at Falls and Beaver streets.

Dr. Jones, who for 12 years served as foreign secretary of his church, has, with Mrs. Jones, just completed an extensive tour of more than 30,000 miles which took the couple to the British Isles, Holland, Denmark, Belgium, Sweden, Western Germany, India, Transjordan, Damascus and Italy. The Nazarene national missionary budget is over $1,000,000 annually.

Rev. Jones is a former district superintendent of the Pittsburgh district and held several pastorates.

Coronary Attacks Not Usually Fatal Within Short Time

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Coronary thrombosis, contrary to popular impression, is not usually fatal immediately or within a short time.

Results of a study by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians show that 70 per cent of a group of persons who had had one or more coronary attacks were still alive at the end of five years, 50 per cent at the end of 10 years, and 43 per cent at the end of 12 years. The study traces survivorship among 540 men for whom life insurance disability benefits were approved because of heart conditions.

Similarly favorable results were shown among those in the experience who were victims of degenerative heart disease, but had no record of an acute coronary episode or other complication. Among

GAS PAINS GO Inches of Bloat Vanish

Swelling with gas after meals—rifting of hot, sour liquids into the throat—a heavy, swollen feeling around the waist-line. These are some of the penalties of an Upset Stomach.

CERTA-VIN is helping hundreds of stomach "victims" here in New Castle. One local man said Certa-Vin worked so much gas and bloat from him that his waist-line went down 7 inches.

CERTA-VIN is a new formula containing Ten Great Herbs blended with vitamin B and Iron. It not only relieves gas; it also enriches the blood with new red cells and makes the nerves stronger with vitamin B. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! these the five-year survivorship rate was 72 per cent, the 10-year rate 50 per cent, and the 12-year rate 44 per cent.

Even among cases which had a record of serious kidney or cerebral involvement, the survivorship rate was substantial—40 per cent at the end of 5 years, and about 17 per cent at the end of 10 years. Among those with valvular heart disease, 44 per cent were alive at the end of 5 years, and 27 per cent at the end of 10 years.

"The results of this study should prove vastly encouraging to many thousands of persons with heart disease, and to their families," the statisticians comment. "A large number of cardiacs can enjoy many years of useful life if they have adequate medical supervision and live within their physical limitations."

Barkley Speaks To Jewish Leaders At Pittsburgh Meet

No greater tragedy could befall the western world and the middle east in particular, than collapse of the State of Israel, "which is carrying the torch of liberty in that part of the world," vice president Alben W. Barkley declared Sunday in addressing more than 600 Jewish leaders meeting at the William Penn hotel for a tri-state conference of the United Jewish Appeal.

Responding to Mr. Barkley's plea for help, delegates to the conference presented checks totaling $402,000 for immediate transmission to the United Jewish Appeal. In a special resolution, the conferees called upon all communities in the tri-state region to intensify the drive for cash, and to borrow the largest sums possible against pledges which have not yet been paid, to meet the current demand.

nouncement admitting that UN forces are moving into North Korea's "central defense area."

Hinting at the enormous extent of the Communist army's losses, the Pyongyang radio said "new elements now are replacing some older fighting units along the front."

The U. S. First Cavalry Division's mechanized troops drove with increasing speed along the principal rail-highway artery leading to Pyongyang from the southeast. This push picked up momentum northwest of captured Namchonjom.

Racing To Rescue
EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA, Oct. 16.—A U.S. Army major led a South Korean patrol tonight in a race to rescue 800 American war prisoners said to be held by Communists in a North Korean railroad tunnel 20 miles above Youngchang.

A half-dozen survivors of what they described as a "death march" from Seoul toward the Manchurian border reported that the Reds had murdered more than 500 South Korean prisoners and holed up the Americans in the tunnel.

Mass Electrocuting
At Munchon 420 South Koreans were reported killed by the Reds in the war's first mass electrocution just before United Nations troops entered that town, 12 miles northwest of Wonsan.

Col. Glenn F. Rogers, American advisory officer at Wonsan, quoted 20 survivors as saying the South Korean victims were marched to a trench from their jail cells in Munchon. The trench had been wired.

The survivors said that when the South Koreans reached the spot, the North Koreans shouted "air raid" and forced the victims to jump into the long trench where they were electrocuted.

This was one of a series of atrocities reported by Korean Republic sources which listed at least 2,090 South Korean war prisoners slain by the Communists in the port of Wonsan and towns to the north.

Need Ground For Fire Protection
When council met in city hall today council forwarded to committee for consideration an ordinance which provides for the city to purchase ground from Isabel Ritz at a cost of $550 for the purpose of opening Fairview avenue into Blunston avenue. The action is advocated by Richard I. Davis, safety director, who says fire trucks cannot get into a section there.

Postpone Action On Abattoir Bill
Upon a suggestion by Safety Director R. I. Davis in council meeting Monday, no action was taken on the ordinance which regulates the operation of the Abattoir plant, Mr. Davis said that a perusal of the bill made him believe some changes would be required in the ordinance.

May Refuse Permits For Excavations
City Engineer John Z. Street told Council at City Hall there are only four licensed plumbers in the city who have placed bonds for making excavations here, and "if you hear of me refusing a permit to some, you will know the reason why."

He made the explanation after an ordinance was read, and which gives utilities the privilege of filing their own bond without sureties for excavations, because of certificates to that effect having been granted by the Public Utilities Commission.

Men At Camp Atterbury Appreciate Efforts Here

If you are one of the citizens who have contributed to the fund to supply the 229th Field Artillery Battalion with a few comforts, take a bow.

Or if you belong to an organization that has helped the fund, take bow also.

Not too much has been sent down to Camp Atterbury but what has been sent is being used a lot and is appreciated.

Captain Gilliland Here

Captain Ralph Gilliland, adjutant of the 229th, spent the week end with his family in Mount Jackson and Sunday afternoon told of the furniture, radios, record players and records that have been sent.

"The men appreciate all that has been done," said Captain Gilliland. "That load of furniture came down a week ago looks fine in the day rooms, although there is more needed. The radios and record players are going nightly and every time they are used the men think of New Castle."

Captain Gilliland was asked what else could be used in the day rooms of the 229th.

"Ping-pong tables would be a big help," said he. One for each day room would be fine with the ping-pong equipment with them. We could use a lot more furniture for the day rooms are large. We could use books and magazines, and some card tables and chairs."

"Let's Get Them"

Told of the further needs at the camp Ivor V. Davis, chairman of the Lawrence County Civilian Sponsor committee said today, "let's get them."

"So far," said Mr. Davis the money contributed to the fund has bought the following. Insurance for the men of the 229th and the 284th Chemical Unit enroute to camp and the following to Camp Atterbury.

"An inter-communication set for use in the battalion offices and day rooms, two radio-record players, two divans, three lounge chairs, 24 albums of records, some books, and a mimeograph machine for making up orders and announcements."

"Captain Gilliland has told us that second hand furniture can be used in the day rooms. Here in New Castle there must be a lot of good second hand furniture laying around such as divans, lounge chairs and the like. It seems to me it would be a good idea to gather up a truck load of it and ship it down."

"The committee is ready to purchase anything the men need at Atterbury if the money is furnished. Right now the balance is low."

Further information upon the idea of collecting second hand furniture will probably be furnished later.

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF.—Albert Einstein's cousin came up with something that Claire Trevor's male fans have known all along—he says she's the only gal in Hollywood who does an "oral strip-tease" when she talks. "Sensuous" and "enchanting" is the way Dr. Frenz Fodor describes the vocal chords of the sultry blonde actress (above).

In 1946 he was made assistant superintendent at Chicago, and on January 1, 1948, was made superintendent of the Akron division. He now returns to Pittsburgh as superintendent.

Titan Harriers To Meet Bethany

Westminster college's cross country team will meet Bethany college harriers Tuesday afternoon at Bethany, W. Va.

The Titan squad, coached by Harold Barry, will meet all of its opponents on foreign soil this year. The squad will be without the services of sophomore Dick Bloom Tuesday who will be out of action most of the season with a fractured foot.

Remaining contests on the Westminster schedule include meets with West Virginia Oct. 28, Carnegie Tech Nov. 4 and the tri-state meet at Slippery Rock Nov. 11.

Grapplers Are Well Educated

Adopt Mat Game To Gain Fortune

Just because a wrestler commits what some fans and fanettes believe to be an atrocity of the mat, they're characterized as low-brows, and a "throw-back to the days when cave-men emerged from stygian darkness to club an unwary brother with a club."

True it is, some grapplers do commit acts considered unethical by folk who pay to see them flip each other about like toothpicks, but the fact remains they are not low-brows, neither are they "throw-backs" but well educated persons who take to wrestling as a quick means to a fortune.

For instance, Jackie Nichols, who wrestles Angelo Poffo here October 26, born the son of a blacksmith in a loggers camp, starred in athletics at Richmond academy and won a degree at Boston U. Don George, then champion, gave Jackie his first mat tutoring. Angelo Poffo, born in Chicago, attended DePaul U., leaving with a bachelor of science degree. He was a baseball player of note and later won the middleweight championship of the Chicago Y.M.C.A. Like his opponent, Nichols, he is a television star.

Ex-High School Girls
Ace Freeman, who was to have wrestled here, was seriously hurt Wednesday night in a Chicago television bout and he will be replaced by Billy Widener, who will take on Jack Vansky, who, like ex-middleweight Champ George Chip, is of Lithuanian ancestry. Both appeared here previously.

And as for the girls in the sensation tag exhibition, June Byers takes on Ellen Olsen and Mars Bennett wrestles Cora Combs. June is a 5.7 tall female who weighs in at 150. She is 24. Mars is 27, four inches shorter, has red hair and is an all-around athlete. Cora Combs is two years past voting age and tips the beams at 138, and like Cora has red hair. Like the other two girls, she is a high school graduate and once warbled as a member of the Trail Riders of Nashville, a Hill Billy band organization.

Titans-Bisons Stymied By Wet Field Slog To 7-7 Stalemate At Bethany

Westminster college and Bethany college sloshed to a 7-7 dead-lock Saturday before a rain soaked crowd at Rhine field in Bethany, W. Va.

Both teams were forced to stick to a ground attack for yardage as rain fell throughout the contest.

A short Westminster kick gave the Bisons their scoring opportunity late in the first period. The West Virginians took over on the Westminster 30 yard stripe and bucked the ball down to the 10 where Bill Lee passed to Carl Staples to bring the ball down to the yard stripe as the quarter ended.

On the second play in the next period Lee crashed center for the touchdown. Dan Altemere kicked the extra point.

Westminster's tally came midway of the third quarter when Carl Mantz cut through center from the three yard line into the end zone. Quarterback Bob Sisket two plays earlier had put the Titans in scoring position with a deceptive boot-sweep around end for 19 yards. Sisket converted to tie up the contest.

The Westminster eleven muffed two scoring opportunities in the second half. Early in the third period the Titans were on the Bison five yard stripe on second down when a 15 yard unnecessary roughness penalty placed them back on the 20 yard stripe. A pass interception at this point killed the scoring threat.

Another Westminster threat midway of the final period was nipped when a Titan fumble on the Bethany five yard marker was recovered by the Bisons.

Outplayed offensively in the first half, the Westminster eleven came back strong in the final half to gain the statistical edge on the Bethany team. The Titans ran up 12 first downs in the second half to outgain the Bisons 14 to seven in that department.

Westminster accumulated a total of 206 yards rushing to Bethany's 81. Bethany completed three passes for 38 yards through the air. The Titans were unable to gain through the air.

The tie game Westminster a record of one win against two losses and a tie for the season.

Croton Junior Baseball Champs Honored Sunday

Croton paid fitting tribute to a great championship baseball club last night, as 50 persons sat down to dine, and eulogize the Croton A. C. Junior team.

American Legion Junior League champions, for 1950, the first baseball champions in Croton's long sports history.

The affair, one of the highlights of a recently completed baseball season, occurred at a New Wilmington road cafe, and the meal consisted of spaghetti and meat balls and fried chicken done just right and quite tasty.

Honored guests at the occasion were Sheriff Frank Coen, Joseph O'Leary, chairman of the American Legion Baseball League, Al Scarazzo, president of the New Castle Senators baseball club and Charles "Bugs" Walther, associate sports editor of the New Castle News, all of whom were called on for short talks and quite laudatory.

O'Leary on behalf of the Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343 presented to Manager Johnny Memo, of the Croton Juniors, one of the finest trophies seen in some time, as emblematic of the title, and Memo responded with a fine talk reviewing the past season.

This was the first Croton Junior team in history and one of the very few trophies ever given by the Legion to the title holders, and the presentation was very touching.

Jackets Presented
Final speaker was Larry Malizia, chairman of the Croton A. C. baseball committee and he told of how the junior team got started this year. Malizia was high in his praise of the young men who brought Croton their first baseball championship.

At the conclusion of his fine talk, Malizia and the following members of the Croton A. C. sports committee: Frank Cook, Dom Manzo, Tom Mico, Romeo Colaluca, Henry Rico, T. M. Malizia, Bob Conti, and Nick Memo presented each boy with a beautiful jacket.

Frank Bonfield Toastmaster
The following boys received jackets: Dave Rich, Norman Cook, Frank Stone, Pat Calderone, Romeo Colaluca, Joe Malley, Nick Calderaro, Nick Memo, Ralph Manko, Pat Patrucci, Mike DeRose, Clyde Cummings, Frank Jim Parente, Ronnie Rich (bat boy) and Manager Johnny Memo.

Frank Bonfield handled the toastmaster role and did a swell job of introducing each speaker with a lot of wit and humor. Joe Malley, vice-president of Duke of Abuzzi club gave a short talk and congratulated the champions, as did Jimmy Bloise of the Sunset team, the losers to Croton in the playoff series. Ronnie Rich, the bat boy, was awarded the door prize. Rudy Rubies, spoke in behalf of the Croton A. C. senior team, the members also being guests at the dinner.

Antonio DeMattis of Cascade street provided the music for the occasion with fine accordion numbers which had a very pleasing air. Croton did itself proud in honoring their first baseball champions—and next year hope to repeat.

Cross-Country Team Goes To Meadville Tuesday For Meet

New Castle high school cross country team travels to Meadville Tuesday afternoon for a return meet with the Meadville high school harriers.

Earlier in the season the Cane thincleds defeated Meadville 20-35 at Castle's golf course.

The Red Hurricane runners will be seeking their fourth win of the season in as many meets.

Not only was Philadelphia without a Philly World Series since 1915, but without an Athletic Pennant since 1931—which means that the city of brotherly love went without a flag 20 years longer than any other two-team city in the Majors.

Rod & Gun Club Host To Country Sportsmen

Lawrence County Council of Sportsmen will meet Thursday night at 8 p.m. at the Ellwood Rod and Gun Club on the Ellwood-Wampum road.

Earl Walker, president of north-west division of sportsmen will bring with him State Police Sergeant Blythe, to give a short talk.

Also on the speaking committee will be Mr. Dow who will speak in the interest of the fish commission of Pennsylvania.

Vice President Joseph Kraynak of the Ellwood Rod and Gun Club will preside in place of President W. Henry Rodgers who is ill.

Steelers Stop Giants 17 To 6

Browns Down Cards, Eagles Win 24-14

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(INS)—The guy who said the single win in football was as dead as button shoes had better take notice today.

It was the Steelers, paced by Joe Geri, who defeated the New York Giants, 17 to 6, yesterday, thereby marring the lone unbeaten slate in the pro ranks.

The loss, first in four starts for the New Yorkers, dropped them to second place in the American division of the league.

Browns Top Cards
Cleveland's Browns went into first place by coming to life in the fourth quarter with 17 points and a 34-to-24 triumph over the Chicago Cardinals.

The lowly Baltimore Colts battled the powerful Philadelphia Eagles to a standstill until the last eight minutes. Then the Eagles broke loose and a touchdown by Troy Ledbetter and a field goal by Cliff Patton produced a 24-to-14 win.

Johnny Lujack ran the Chicago Bears into a tie for first place in the National division. The ace quarterback scored 22 points as the Bears mowed down the Green Bay Packers, 28 to 14.

Bob Waterfield kicked a 10-yard field goal with less than two minutes to go to give the Los Angeles Rams a 30-to-28 victory over the Detroit Lions.

Lawrence Sportsmen Convene Tuesday
Lawrence County Sportsmen's association will meet at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in Ecclesian hall. Judge John G. Lamoree will be the principal spokesman. Motion pictures of outdoor life will be displayed.

Gannon Suffers First Loss On Football Field

By TROY GORDON
(L. N. S. Sports Writer)

The list of undefeated, untied college football teams in Pennsylvania was down to seven today, and two more squads have only a tie marring the records.

Franklin & Marshall and Lehigh each scored their fourth victory Saturday. Boasting three for the season are Carnegie Tech, Drexel, Bloomsburg, Scranton and Thiel.

Stroudsburg played to a 13 to 13 tie, enabling both to dodge defeat. Scranton University and Penn's Francis (Reds) Bagnell had no contest for outstanding performance nominations.

Gannon Drops First
Scranton upset (if that's the word) Gannon College 34 to 7. That was the first defeat for the Erie team since it entered inter-collegiate competition last season.

Bagnell, a halfback for the Quakers, carried (and that is the word) Penn to a 42 to 26 win over Dartmouth. Among other things, he completed 14 consecutive passes and accounted for 490 yards gained by Penn in the free-scoring contest.

Lehigh had a big day at the expense of Gettysburg, drubbing the bullets 49 to 6.

Carnegie Tech Wins
Franklin & Marshall blanked Western Maryland 25 to 0, largely because of a 19-point spurge in the fourth quarter.

Carnegie Tech established itself as a Class B power with a 26 to 6 victory over Akron, O.

Drexel got its third win at the expense of Penn Military, 19 to 7. Bloomsburg trounced Millersville 40 to 2. And Thiel shut out Clarion 12 to 0.

Outside of Penn, the state's major teams had a rough week end.

Penn State lost to Syracuse, 27 to 7. Pitt did everything but beat Rice, losing 14 to 7. Temple dropped a thriller to Rutgers, 26 to 20. Villanova was beaten by Tulsa, 27 to 7.

Other week end scores:
West Chester 39, Lock Haven 21; Albright 25, Adelphi 6; Geneva 20, Allegheny 7; Bucknell 34, Washington & Jefferson 0; California State 24, Concord (W. Va.) 6; Dickinson 39, Ursinus 6; Indiana State 20, Edinboro 6; Hiram (Ohio) 25, Grove City 6; Juniata 19, Susquehanna 12; Muhlenberg 21; Lafayette 6; Muskingum (Ohio) 47; Slippery Rock 7; Waynesburg 19; Mt. St. Mary's 19 (Tie); St. Vincent 19, St. Francis 7.

Antlerless Plan Opposed

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs today is opposed to the November 27-28 season on antlerless deer scheduled by the State Game Commission.

An 11-day season on bucks will follow the two-day season.

During the 21st annual convention at Harrisburg, delegates spiked resolutions calling for a one day doe season after the regular buck season and opposing concurrent hunting of bucks and does.

The resolutions made it clear that the sportsmen were angered by the failure of the Game Commission to discuss the antlerless deer season prior to its order.

Delegates approved another resolution earmarking $2,500 for the expenses of a lobbyist for the association during the 1951 session of the General Assembly.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

ELKS AND THEIR NON-ELK GUESTS, who gather around the festive table when the Quarterback club meets at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, in B.P.O.E., Lodge 69 banquet room, will be regaled with stories of how Ne-Ca-Hi came on during the latter portion of the Farrell game, to cover and intercept passes, charge terrifically, and wreck Farrell's hopes for victory, 20 to 13. And they will also hear a substitute linesman who took "the worst beating" while he managed to hold up under the grueling battering he received. And yet further, they'll be told by scouts what to expect when New Castle High opposes Erie Academy here next Friday night. Erie Academy vanquished Farrell 20 to 12, or by one point less than the Red and Black. Motion photos of the Farrell-Ne-Ca-Hi game, plus pictures of other grid settees will be displayed, according to Co-Chairman Rube Kennedy and Austin Cowmeadow. . . . Members of the Izaak Walton league, which met recently at Waynesburg, adopted a resolution which has been submitted to Governor James Duff, requesting that Ross K. Leffler, president of the State Game Commission, be reappointed a member of the commission after his term expires in January. . . . Johnny Hayden of Los Angeles, who visited New Castle, his home town, last year, writes he is at Las Vegas, Nev. He reports that Jimmy Dunn, former local fighter and manager, who is now a Las Vegas resident, has departed for Cleveland, where one of his sons is to become a bridegroom.

IZAAK WALTON LEAGUE at Waynesburg, passed a resolution, asking for an amendment of the law banning sucker fishing in non-trout streams to read that streams be closed one month before the opening of trout season, only in those waters where the game fish exist, and others be opened to sucker fishing. Another resolution supported the Game Commission's policy on handling of the deer herd. It asked that closed seasons should not be granted to "special counties on petition of licensed hunters." After fiery discussion, the resolution was adopted. . . . A new wrinkle is now employed in motorcycle racing. Any rider competing in a race at Reading may claim through purchase any other motorcycle entered, providing the claim is made within 30 minutes after the completion of the program. . . . Hon. Judge John G. Lamoree will be the principal spokesman at the Tuesday night meeting of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association in Ecclesian hall.
